

Call for Papers

LSE Macro PhD Workshop

20 November 2026

Hosted by LSE - Centre for Macroeconomics

Workshop date: 20 November 2026

Submission deadline: 15 August 2026

Location: LSE SAL, 32 Lincoln's Inn Fields, London WC2A 3PH

This workshop offers an opportunity for PhD students working in macroeconomics to present their early-stage and advanced research projects for feedback and get to know and network with other PhD students working in macroeconomics. Presenters can apply for longer presentations of 30 minutes (including questions) and shorter lightning sessions of 15 minutes for early-stage work.

Submissions

Please submit your papers by the deadline on 15 August 2026 (23:59 UK time) using the submission form HERE. We invite submissions on any topic in macroeconomics. For 30-minute presentation slots, we ask for submission of a full draft. For a lightning session slot, we also welcome the submission of extended abstracts (2-5 pages). Please indicate your preference in the form.

Decisions

Acceptance decisions will be sent in September 2026 and we ask for registration by the end of September.

Attendance

As the primary goal of the workshop is to get to know colleagues working in similar areas, we also welcome attendance of non-presenters and will open registration in September.

Funding

There are no registration fees. Lunch, coffee and tea will be provided free of charge. Unfortunately, we are unable to provide any financial support towards travel and accommodation expenses.

For questions or comments, please contact the organisers: Marie Fuchs (m.fuchs1@lse.ac.uk) Tiago Paúl (t.brinkmann-torres@lse.ac.uk) Diego Ferreras Garrucho (d.ferreras-garrucho@lse.ac.uk).